

All Knowledge to the People!

At Eternal Summer of the Black Feminist Mind we believe that education is eternal when it is accountable to communities and community supported. We ask that each School of Our Lorde Participant offer a barter, and/or ask at least 7 of their loved ones or community members to support their participation at the level that they can. Our goal is for each participant to raise between $50-$200 in financial or other forms of resources for each unit. You can also contribute a scholarship named after a loved one towards someone else's participation.

Bad-ass Barter:

And/or Intended Donation

Your People (please think of at least 7 people in your communities who your work in the course honors and let them know they inspire you...whether or not you decide to ask them to be monetary sponsors.)
